

GRAND OLD MAN OF CANADA DEAD IN HIS 94TH YEAR

Mr. Charles Tupper, Famous Figure in Dominion, Dies in England.

CHICAGO, Oct. 29.—Sir Charles Tupper, Canadian statesman, died in England today. He was 94 years old.

His career in the Dominion of Canada in 1867, in which he played a prominent part, up to within a few years ago. Sir Charles Tupper was so prominent in Canadian statesmanship that upon his retirement he, like the late Lord Strathcona, was called "Canada's Grand Old Man."

Born at Amherst, Nova Scotia, July 2, 1821, he studied medicine at Edinburgh University, and attained success in the profession in his native Nova Scotia where he entered politics in 1855 by winning a seat in the Nova Scotia parliament as a Conservative. He defeated Joseph Howe, leader of the Nova Scotia Liberals.

Young Tupper made himself a power in parliament as premier of Nova Scotia in 1864. After the formation of the confederation he became minister of customs in the Sir John Macdonald cabinet, resigning in 1873, and was Sir John's closest adviser in the five years during which the Conservative party was out of power.

In 1873, when Macdonald returned to power, Tupper became minister of public works. He created the department of railways and canals, and became its first minister. In this post he carried out the policy of the government for enlargement of the Welland canal, deepening of the St. Lawrence river, improvement of the international railway and construction by a private company of the Canadian Pacific railway.

He retired from the ministry in 1884 and went to London as Canada's highest commissioner. In 1887 he was recalled to be minister of finance in Macdonald's last cabinet, resigning next year and resumed his duties in London. In January, 1886, he entered the Sir Mackenzie Bowell administration as secretary of state and leader in the house of commons, and on the retirement of Bowell four months later he succeeded him as prime minister.

After the defeat of the Conservatives in June, 1896, Dr. Tupper resigned office and upon the meeting of the new parliament he was elected leader of the Opposition. A few years later he retired to private life. Several years ago he went to London, intending to spend his remaining years there. His leaving-taking was made the occasion of a great popular demonstration in Vancouver. The Tupper was created a baronet in 1878. He was at one time president of the Canadian Medical association.

WORTHY MEN ARE NAMED FOR CITY SHERIFFS AND SELECTMEN

In the make-up of their ticket for city sheriffs and selectmen, the Democratic electors are especially fortunate this year. The ticket includes men who have the confidence and respect of the voters, and who are especially well equipped to carry out their duties.

SHERIFFS.

GEORGE BUZCKO.

In naming George Buzcko as a candidate for selectman the Democratic party has carried out its policy of giving opportunity for public office to young men. Mr. Buzcko has lived in the West End practically since his birth. He is a draftsman, and self-educated. After leaving school he worked for a time in a factory; then in his spare time he began the study of mechanical drawing. He soon became proficient in that line of work and now holds a responsible position at the factory of the American Graphophone Co. Mr. Buzcko is married and lives at 975 Weymouth avenue. He has been affiliated with several young people's societies in the West End and is popular with all who know him. He is of Hungarian descent. Even before he became a voter he took much interest in having other young men become electors and it was largely because of the interest he has taken in having others made voters that he was named for the oncoming high has largely to do with this matter.

HUGH CAMPBELL.

The nomination of Hugh Campbell for selectman on the Democratic ticket is a tribute to his past endeavors as a worker for the party. Mr. Campbell has been a consistent Democrat ever since he was made a voter. He is employed at the Singer Mfg. Co. On leaving school he obtained employment at this plant, where he is still employed and liked by all his associates. He lives in the West End at 219 Holston street. He is a son of John H. Campbell, a widely known resident of East Bridgeport. Although a young man, the confidence which his friends repose in him is manifested in their support of him for this important public office.

JAMES P. GRIFFIN.

James P. Griffin, who is a Democratic candidate for selectman has long been active in Democratic politics, although he never before has been a candidate for public office. He lives at 27 Austin street in the Second district. He is an expert mason and bricklayer and has held responsible positions as foreman on contracts for the erection of large buildings. He enjoys the respect and confidence of his friends and neighbors as well as the confidence of his political associates in the Democratic party.

SHERIFFS.

JOHN J. DOYLE.

John J. Doyle, Democratic candidate for city sheriff, is respected by all with whom he has intercourse. He too, is a Bridgeport boy, a graduate of the public schools and one who has lived for years in the Sixth district. He is a collector for the Frank Miller Lumber Co. and lives at 105 Linn avenue. He is a member of Bridgeport lodge of Elks, is married and has a large circle of friends. Sheriff Doyle has been consistently active in Democratic politics since he became a voter.

THOMAS LOVELY.

Thomas Lovely was born in Bridgeport and has always been a deputy selectman. When this section of the city was the old Third ward, City Sheriff Lovely became identified with the Third Ward Literary club, an organization that was devoted to Democratic politics. Some of the best known men in municipal affairs in this city have been numbered in its membership and although the sheriff has little desire for public office he serves because of his interest in politics and the desire of his friends to keep him in public office.

Sheriff Lovely, after leaving the public schools, learned the machinists' trade and followed this employment until he accepted public office. For several years he has been president of the Seventh District Democratic club and he has arranged and conducted all the outings given by that organization. He is a member of the Bridgeport lodge of Elks and of the Foresters of America.

CHARLES B. MARA.

Charles B. Mara, candidate for city sheriff, is one of the most widely known men in Bridgeport public life. For more than 25 years he has been actively interested in Democratic politics in the Twelfth district. He has never sought public office and his nomination as city sheriff came to him unsolicited eight years ago. After serving a term as city sheriff, he was named by Sheriff Vollmer as a deputy. After Sheriff Vollmer retired from office the Democrats of the Twelfth district made Mr. Mara their candidate for city sheriff once more.

Mr. Mara was born in Bridgeport and has lived here continuously. He was graduated from the public schools of Bridgeport and then learned the manufacture of paper boxes. For more than 20 years he was with the Thomas P. Taylor Co. in an executive position. He left that business to accept the office of city sheriff to which he was elected on the Democratic ticket in 1908. Since then Mr. Mara has acted either as a city sheriff or a deputy sheriff continuously.

It is said of him that in all his years of service he has never served a paper which has caused trouble for either the attorney who employed him or the attorney's client.

Mr. Mara lives at 24 North street in the East End. He is a member of Seaview lodge, New England Order of Protection.

He held in Middletown on Monday and interment will be in the Hillside cemetery.

GEORGE EISEY MELIUS.

Simple services were held over the body of George Eisey Melius at his home, 461 Norman street, at 2:30 this afternoon by Rev. John MacLaren Richardson. The lodges to which Mr. Melius belonged were represented by delegations. Business, professional and club men thronged the home and a great many employees of the H. O. Canfield Co. were present. Fairchild Wheeler and R. H. Broderick.

MARGARET M. CUDDY.

The funeral today of Margaret M., daughter of Patrick and Mary Cuddy of 142 Clarence street was one of the largest that has been held from St. Mary's church in some time. The cortege moved from the home at 8:30 and the mass of requiem was sung at 9 o'clock by Rev. Thomas P. Mulcahy. As the body was being taken to the church the choir sang "Thy Will Be Done" and at the offertory "Pie Jesu." After the mass Joseph Clabby sang "There's a Beautiful Land on High" and as the body was being carried from the church, Mrs. Munich and Mr. Clabby sang "Nearer My God to Thee." The casket was banked with many hands. The hearse was followed by three brothers of Miss Cuddy, Frank, Edward and Joseph Cuddy and intimate friends, William Ryan, William Regnery and Frank Phelan. Interment was in St. Michael's cemetery.

FRITZ CONRAD PETERSON. Fritz Conrad Peterson, aged 27 years, a Bridgeporter, who had been in the west four years in a futile search for better health, died this morning in Colorado. Mr. Peterson's death was not unexpected. For weeks his health gradually had been failing. The deceased, a native of Sweden, came to America when a small child, and lived in Bridgeport until four years ago. He entered the employ of The Farmer Publishing Co. when a youth, and learned the printer's trade, in which he acquired much proficiency. He was still with The Farmer when his health failed, and he went to the home maintained by the printers in Colorado Springs, the Union Printers' Home, where he had remained. He is survived by a widow and one child, and two brothers, Albert and Oscar. The remains will be brought to Bridgeport.
